2011 AFTAC WORLDWIDE REUNION

12 MAY – 15 MAY 2011

by Charlie Penn, President

It is time to make your plans to attend the 2011 AFTAC Worldwide reunion which is being hosted by the AFTAC Alumni Association - West Coast Chapter. The site selection committee searched throughout the Sacramento region to find the "perfect" location for this event. For nostalgic and practical reasons the Lions Gate Hotel (formally the "O" Club at McClellan AFB) was selected. This facility offers registered guests complementary buffet breakfasts, will set up transportation to and from the Sacramento International Airport ($14/person), and has rooms ranging from refurbished BOQ's to the SMAMA General's quarters (4 bedrooms). Prices for lodging range from $89 - $349/night with some quarters offering full kitchens and multiple bedrooms. The bar and restaurant facilities are revamped and very accommodating. So, what is on tap for our reunion? (Editor's note: Please use the Registration form that is included in this issue or the one that is on our website.)

Thursday, 12 May 2011: Early sign-in and hospitality suite activities. George Thompson, the maestro of the hospitality suite, has toured the facility for this function and gives it two thumbs up. It is a former one bedroom base officer's quarters that has a full kitchen, living room, bathroom, and access to a large patio area. This will handle at least 80 sages that want to swap some lies and perhaps imbibe in some liquid refreshments. Any group that would like to have a mini-reunion (Detachments, systems, etc.) can contact George at AsstBdChmn@AFTACWCC.org and he will make sure the proper notification and advertising is accomplished. (i.e., Detachment 202 would like to host an alumni function; done!) Registration for these mini-reunions can be accomplished either in the hotel lobby or at the hospitality suite.

Friday, May 13, 2011: Sign-in continues and there will be a docent guided tour of the Aerospace Museum of California starting at 1:00. This facility used to be located close to the new commissary and has since relocated north of McClellan Park on Freedom Park Drive in a new building and grounds area. The Lions Gate Hotel will provide transportation to and from this museum for those who need it. The reduced price for this guided tour will be $5.00 that you pay at the entrance to the museum. You will be impressed at this new facility and exhibits; visit their web site www.aerospacemuseumofcalifornia.org. You can get further information by contacting Gary "Steve" Fritts at DirectorAtLarge@AFTACWCC.org. Starting at 5:00 there will be a no host reception at the "O" Club or General's quarters depending on weather and the number of participants.

This event will have both cold and hot hors d'oeuvres and will give everyone a chance to mingle and reminisce with their brethren and friends. This event "officially" will close at 7:00 and the hearty will adjourn to the hospitality suite. Dinner, for those who need to put on the feed bag, will be non-hosted and left to your discretion.

Saturday, May 14, 2011: Yes, the hospitality suite is still open and registration continues either at the hotel lobby or the suite. Formally, today starts out with a trip to the Thunder Valley Casino with their free bus(s) arriving in front of the Lions Gate Hotel at 10:00. Transportation will take you to the casino where you will be afforded the opportunity to "recoup your expenses for this reunion". The bus will return to the Lions Gate Hotel around 3:00. This will allow you the time to prepare yourselves for the banquet which formally starts at 7:00. The banquet will be the formal finale of this reunion and a chance, once again, to mix with the folks that were an important part of your life. The banquet will have a no host bar opening at 6:00, pre dinner entertainment, color guard presentation, and keynote speaker. After the dinner you will have further opportunities to mingle with attendees, and yes, once again visit the hospitality suite.

Sunday, May 15, 2011: Time to say goodbye at the no host breakfast. Time is at your leisure. The Lions Gate Hotel will arrange ground transportation to the airport for those who need this amenity.

Allan Pentecost Email: 14 June 2010 (Passed on to us by the Post Monitor editors) I just came across your aftalumni.org website a couple of weeks ago. I was doing a Google search for my old AFSC 99125, and I came across an article written in your Post-Monitor newsletter dated March 2005. The article was written by Glenn Kennedy, "Z2 Forever – Stories from a 99125er". It was actually a series of articles about Glenn's experiences in AFTAC, mostly about his time and episodes spent in Alaska. I was stationed with Glenn there at Det 207 in Alaska in 1968 and 1969. Wow! Those stories he wrote really brought back the memories! Glenn really did a great job of writing those articles! The notes to the article indicated how to contact Glenn at his company, Verotek Systems, so I sent him an email. When I did not receive a reply after 2 emails, I called the company and found out the Glenn had passed away a year ago. You would not believe how disappointed I was not to be able to talk to him, rehash old times, and catch us up to the present.

I then discovered your AFTAC Alumni Association West, and through its newsletters I found out that Jack Allison also passed away last year. Talk about disappointed! He was the one that selected me into the 99125 Special Electronics Technician group back in 1967. He was the president of the West Coast chapter in Citrus Heights, Ca. Can you believe it? I LIVE in Citrus Heights, Ca!!

I would love to have been able to talk to him also. I am really disappointed that your newsletter is not posted to the internet for 3 years after publication.

I had done a Google search about 3 or 4 years ago, but your 2005 newsletter had not been posted yet, so I did not find Glenn's article at that time. How very disappointing! I hope you will reconsider your delay of posting your newsletter to the internet.

The last full copy available at this time is March 2007 (over 3 years ago!). This is really disappointing, especially since some of us are getting older, and the chances are even greater of this happening to others as happened to me. I will say that I am still really glad I found your website. Even though I was too late for these two connections, I had a great time of remembering the old times for a couple of weeks. I added my name to your AFTAC Alumni Contact Info.

I will be sending in the dues in order to become a member. I can see that if there is any hope of contacting someone else I was stationed with, it will probably be thru your website. I hope that when I become a member, I can obtain the full copies of the newsletter between March 2007 and the latest one. Allan Pentecost allan.h.pentecost@intel.com Editor's Note: I sent Allan a message with an invitation & application to join the West Coast Chapter, but received no response.

ALLISON, Rosalie (Sunday, August 8, 2010). I am sorry to inform you that my mother, Rosalie Allison, passed away today at her home in Sacramento. She had been feeling sick for the last 2 days and had visited the emergency room on Friday, but was feeling a little better Saturday. I do not yet know the cause of death. When she didn't answer my phone calls today, I asked a neighbor to check on her. He saw her through the window on her bedroom floor. I called 911. The Coroner stated that she had passed away hours prior to that. She was 83 years old, and quite vigorous for her age. Mom had recently returned from a trip to Oregon, which included her 66th high school reunion – she had thoroughly enjoyed her trip. Rosalie wanted her body donated to UC San Francisco, the same as my dad, so we will honor her wishes. Kim Preston kimmerallison@sbcglobal.net Editor's Note: The above notification from Jack & Rosalie's daughter, Kim, was received by email. A subsequent email I received from a family friend informed that the Allison's other daughter, Kendree, passed away in September after a long illness. A memorial service for Rosalie has not been scheduled yet, but it will probably be in January at the Carmichael Elks.

SENSITIVE AFTAC COMPLEX MOVING AWAY FROM SR A1A

BY R. NORMAN MOODY • FLORIDA TODAY • OCTOBER 15, 2010

The Department of Defense will spend nearly $200 million next year to build a new headquarters for the Patrick Air Force Base surveillance organization that tracks nuclear-weapon detonation and testing worldwide.

Construction of a new Air Force Technical Applications Center complex, which would include at least three buildings and a parking garage, is expected to begin in the spring, with completion targeted by the end of 2012, said Brig. Gen. Burke "Ed" Wilson, the commander of the 45th Space Wing at Patrick.

Wilson, who in February assumed command at the base, announced the project during an interview Thursday with FLORIDA TODAY at Cape Canaveral Air Force Station.

"It's actually the largest construction project in the United States for the Air Force," Wilson said. "It's a $150 million-plus project. So that will be very, very visible. Because that big building you see on A1A, we'll begin to depopulate that, and you'll see another building going up just across the street."

Today, AFTAC is headquartered in a four-story building along the west side of State Road A1A and across from the base's Tides Club. About 940 military and civilian personnel work or are assigned to the national security surveillance unit.

So important is AFTAC's headquarters to national security that the military shut down SR A1A immediately after the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11, 2001. Later, traffic along the bustling beachside roadway was restricted to just two lanes, and a barrier was built to shield the building. The front of the structure was also reinforced with steel and concrete. In the months before SR A1A reopened to normal traffic flow, no heavy trucks or trailers were allowed in front of the base.

The new command and control headquarters will be built farther west on base property, away from the busy public road. "You'll begin to see that through the summer and into the fall of next year in 2011," Wilson said.

Wilson said the AFTAC complex and other significant construction projects already under way -- such as on-base road repairs and an $18.5 million, 74,000-square-foot medical clinic that broke ground in August -- are indications that Patrick's future is secure.

While there are sometimes questions about whether the base is safe from federal budget cuts or military downsizing, Wilson said there are no indications at Air Force headquarters or locally that there would be any such cuts.

"With things like our Technical Application Center, with the 920th Rescue Wing, we have some fairly unique assets there at Patrick that (U.S. military forces) rely on," Wilson said.

The commander said the public will begin seeing evidence soon of construction starting, including cranes, trucks and heavy equipment movement along A1A. Further details, such as about the potential for new jobs to be created, were not immediately available. Past projects at the base often involved local subcontractors.

"This is a big, big project," Wilson said. "We're real excited about it. It's good to see it moving and get on contract. It's a new and exciting headquarters building for the AFTAC."
